A log-log graph shows the cumulative number of events plotted against magnitude. The graph includes two lines: one for "real data" and another for "synth. data Asp. (Eq. 4)", as well as "synth. data Non Asp. (Eq. 4)". The y-axis represents the cumulative number on a logarithmic scale, while the x-axis represents magnitude also on a logarithmic scale.