We greatly appreciate Referee #2 for his/her positive evaluation on the framework, targets and analysis plan of the intercomparison project, and for helpful and constructive comments and suggestions on the discussion paper. Overall, we have substantially reorganized and rephrased the manuscript; based on the valuable comments from the two referees to clearly present that this is such a paper as for “model intercomparison descriptions, including experimental details and project protocols” (GMD’s Aims and scope).

For the detailed replies to the comments, please see the supplement file.
