Interactive comment on "Automatic delineation of geomorphological slope-units and their optimization for landslide susceptibility modelling" by Massimiliano Alvioli et al.

A. Kerkweg

kerkweg@uni-mainz.de

Dear authors,

In my role as Executive editor of GMD, I would like to bring to your attention our Editorial version 1.1:

http://www.geosci-model-dev.net/8/3487/2015/gmd-8-3487-2015.html

This highlights some requirements of papers published in GMD, which is also available on the GMD website in the 'Manuscript Types' section:

http://www.geoscientific-model-development.net/submission/manuscript_types.html

In particular, please note that for your paper, the following requirement have not been met in the Discussions paper:

- "The main paper must give the model name and version number (or other unique identifier) in the title."

Please add the name and version number of your model / tool r.slopeunits to the title. Additionally, I'd like to point out, that the Code Availability Section is not an Appendix but a Section of its own. Please correct both mentioned items in the revised submission of your article.

Yours,

Astrid Kerkweg