Dear authors,

In agreement with the CMIP6 panel members, the Executive editors of GMD would like to establish a common naming convention for the titles of the CMIP6 experiment description papers.

The title of CMIP6 papers should include both the acronym of the MIP, and CMIP6, so that it is clear this is a CMIP6-Endorsed MIP.

Good formats for the title include:

'XYZMIP contribution to CMIP6: Name of project'

or

'Name of Project (XYZMIP) contribution to CMIP6'

If you want to include a more descriptive title, the format could be along the lines of,
'XYZMIP contribution to CMIP6: Name of project - descriptive title'

or

'Name of Project (XYZMIP) contribution to CMIP6: descriptive title.'

In your case a Project name XYZMIP might not exist, but the title should contain the information that the Historical greenhouse gas concentrations have been provided for CMIP6. When you revise your manuscript, please correct the title of your manuscript accordingly.

Yours,

Astrid Kerkweg
