Dear authors,

Thank you for your extensive work to respond to all reviewers remarks. A few sections of the paper have been substantially changed, and I don't feel competent to do an editor review. I'm sending back the paper to two of the reviewers.

Considering the manuscript type. I agree with you that the GMD definition of a "model description paper" spawns something wider than this title may suggest. BRICK is a "simple model framework", and your paper properly fits in this category.

Yours,

C1
