Topical Editor Decision: Publish subject to minor revisions (review by editor) (13 Aug 2018) by Claire Levy

Comments to the Author:

Recent exchanges by mail did clarify a few remaining questions, so that now, after the recent exchanges by mail, everything is ready to be finalised.

I am now requesting a minor revision so that the authors can add the latest manuscript and Author's response on the web site.

After a complete reading of this final version, I think a syntax check is also needed: I found some typos at least in lines 63, 71, 91, 92, 105, 130, 137, 138, 139, 157.

Once this step is completed, from my view, the paper will be ready for publishing.

Reply to comments from the Topical Editor:

The authors would like to thank the topical editor for the time spent helping us to improve this article. The document was re-elaborated, taking into account the comments of the Editor. The authors have carried out an exhaustive syntax checking and corrected all the typos (please check the lines 63 to 71, 91, 92, 105, 130, 137, 138, 139, and 157).

In the new manuscript, our changes are highlighted in green color.   Thank you very much for your comments and patience.
