

Dear Editor,

We have removed the last, gramatically incorrect, sentence from the author contribution section.

On behalf of all Authors; Thank you for your efforts towards our manuscript.

Author contributions.

All Authors contributed to the content of this manuscript and it should be viewed as a fruit of the many discussions we have had. Furthermore, SP wrote the Basilisk code, he also designed and implemented the grid adaptation algorithm. The numerical experiments were set up and performed by AvH. The writing was led by AvH and organized in an iterative procedure with BvdW. ~~Noting that the authors have no illusion they (can) do justice to the attribution of all the ideas and input.~~
