

Dear Editor,

The slight difference in model results when using MATLAB vs Python versions of the code are related to the stage 3 cliff top identification, namely alongshore outlier removal. We are now stating it in Code Availability as you suggested (lines 273-274):

“Cliff top positions identified with MATLAB and Python versions of the code may vary slightly due to the program-specific outlier removal functions.”

Kind regards,

Zuzanna Swirad & Adam Young