We thank Dr. Farneti, the topical editor, as well the executive editor and editorial staff for their time considering the manuscript "ROMSPath v1.0: Offline Particle Tracking for the Regional Ocean Modeling System (ROMS)" for publication. We further thank Dr. Clavel-Henry and several anonymous referees for their comments, suggestions, and editorial notes on our manuscript. We have addressed anonymous reviewer 2 editorial comments below.

165: The citation should be deleted from the first sentence in the paragraph, since it is referenced in the second sentence and is more relevant in that case.

300 (and elsewhere): Is the citation repeated? There are occasions where it is hard to tell whether there is a redundant part of text following the tracked changes

Both of these requests are related to references not being highlighted during track changes. We have verified the citations are not repeated.

235: There appears to be an extra parenthesis after "system"

We have removed the extra parentheses.

245: There appears to be an extra parenthesis before "Wilkin"

We have removed the extra parentheses.

425: It is inconsistent whether there is space after each letter when multiple subplots are referenced. In most cases, there are no spaces after the comma between each letter. Also "Fig 6 a,c,e,g" the Fig is missing a period.

We have removed extra spaces as needed.

460: I suggest adding a comma before "respectively"

We have added a comma.

We have also added country to the affiliations on title page of the manuscript.
