As mentioned per separate email, I'm expecting a clearer answer regarding model performance of old VS new. Note that I'm not enforcing this change, but it is a suggestion to strengthen the paper. At the very least, it must be clear to the reader as to why the comparison is not made.

We have updated the manuscript with the suggested added comparison to SWI and updated the text to explain the comparison and results accordingly.