

Response to editors

Dear Daria Karpachova,

First of all, thank you for carefully reviewing our manuscript. We have improved our manuscript according to your advice. For Figures 9 to 12, the line thickness of the red-toned and green-toned data has been differentiated to ensure that colorblind individuals can distinguish the data more easily. The names and order of the manuscript chapters have been edited to comply with the journal's guidelines. "Appendix" has been revised to "Appendix A," and its position has been moved to appear before the "Code and Data Availability" section.

Best regards,

Wonbae Bang (on behalf of the author team)
